Background Information

Axians eWaste GmbH is an experienced partner of waste management companies, industry and local authorities. The focus is on the implementation of Waste Management 4.0 - the complete, digital transformation of all processes along the disposal chain. With the product family "eWaste - digital solutions for waste management and environment" we provide our customers with a comprehensive and professional Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) platform. Companies from a wide range of industries, such as chemicals, energy, construction materials, logistics and the public sector, can thus guarantee and prove the complete and legally compliant disposal of waste. Due to its specific expertise, Axians eWaste also offers conceptual consulting and supports customers in the realisation of their digitisation projects. Waste management made economical - that is our claim.

Axians eWaste is part of Axians, the global umbrella brand for ICT solutions from Vinci Energies.
